Don spoke on Sunday about 'Building Memorials against forgetfulness'.

Read Joshua 4:1-10, 15-18

Crossing the Jordan wasn't just about getting through something hard, it was an invitation to call to mind – remember – God's faithfulness. God asked His people to build memorials to help with this, especially when faced with another new challenge.

We all face "Jordan seasons," and we often rush through them, but God invites us to carry out reminders of His goodness so they strengthen us for what's ahead.

1. Think of a time when God carried you through something difficult. What part of that season do you most need to remember today?
2. Don's sermon talks about building "memorials against forgetfulness." What practices or reminders help you stay aware of God's faithfulness when life gets busy or heavy? Is there anything you have thought about putting into practice?
3. Israel hurried across the Jordan. In what ways, and why, do we hurry through our own hard seasons, and what might we miss when we do?
4. When you look back at past challenges, what aspect of God's character stands out most clearly to you now?
5. Israel built memorials before facing Jericho and Ai. How might remembering God's past faithfulness give you courage for the things still ahead?

PRAY

Pray for each other, that we will be aware of God's faithfulness in the past, helping us increase our trust in him for the future.
